Defeats Hoppe in an Uninterest-

Former Champion Unable to Show His Skill-Sutton Makes High Run of 104.

George Sutton of Chicago, winner of many championships and a veteran billiard player, defeated Willie Hoppe in a match game for the 18:1 balkline cham last night. Hoppe has been champion for several years. He won when he was very young, was at odds with the billiard management for some time, went back into the fold, won the championships again and has been practically unbeatable. This winter he has twice defended the 18:2 balkline title against Sutton.

The match was played in the ballroom of the Hotel Astor. That room was crowded with the lovers of the game and among those present were lawyers. doctors, business men of all sorts, handsomely gowned women and many who patronize games of skill. Among those noticedwere Dr. H. D. Jennings T. Bull. Yale's famous punter; George F. Slosson, George B. Post, Cort-land Palmer Dixon, H. K. Thurber, Alfred De Oro, R. T. Kammerer, Dr. L. L. Mial, O. S. Campbell, Capt. Abraham Bassford U. S. A.; Thomas Rushmore, Charles Siayer, Edward W. Gardner, John Daly and Maurice Daly.

The game was not a brilliant one. Neither player was at his best. Sutton won with a score of 500 to 374 and his average was exactly 10. It was an open game in which there was very little nursing or close play and only twice, or perhaps thre times, did either player show Again he ran 69 and once Hoppe made 67.

Sulton, after winning, was congratulated by Hoppe and then the two compared notes. They agreed that the weather had something to do with the poor average, but Hoppe said he was worried. He said he t.dgeted and halted in his play and the more he tried to avoid it the worse it grew, and he was really more and about his said. t the worse it grew, and he was really vorried about himself.

Sutton good naturedly patted him on the shoulder and said "forget it. We all have spells like that. The trouble with you is that you have been playing too much billiards and what you must do is take a rest and things will all go right

Hoppe was not in his usual form. He Hoppe was not in his usual form. He played a halting game last night and frequently changed his plan just as it seemed to onlookers that he was about to make a stroke. That is something Hoppe never did before. He studied the work of his opponent too as he never did before, and did not seem to be able to get his mind on what he had to do.

It is unfortunate that this has come now, as he is to play Calvin Demarest for the 18-2 championship on April 11 or the 18:2 championship on April 11 and has less than four weeks to prepare ir that game. Sutton peeled off his coat, folded it up and placed it under the table and was ready to play in his shirt sleeves. Hoppe appeared in a silk sleeved cardigan jacket. They banked to decide who should start the game and the veteran Sutton won. He selected the white ball, chalked his Hoppe found the ivories well scattered. Hoppe found the ivories well scattered but counted with a clever three cushion shot and soon was clicking off carroms at a steady gait. The balls were at the foot of the table and with an occasional drive to get them in better position, but mostly by close play, the champion made 28 and then missed a single cushion shot about which he seemed to be overanxious. Sutton studied the table care fully, worked hard and made 13, missing a short spread draw. Hoppe added 8 fully, worked hard and made 13, missing a short spread draw. Hoppe added 8 to his total and then Sutton made a run of 14. His tenth was a pretty massé, the first of the match, and it was appreciated.

of 14. His tenth was a precty masse, the first of the match, and it was appreciated. Each player made a miss. Then Hoppe made 1, which Sutton offset with 2, and 6 by each followed.

They were nervous. Sutton mopped his head with his handkerchief when not playing and Hoppe 1: deeted in a way not u sual with him. At the end of the sixth inning Hoppe had a lead of 10, the scores being: Hoppe, 45: Sutton, 35.

In his half of the eighth inning Sutton made a run of 14. His last shot was a clever one but the balls lined up and an inoppertune kiss put a stop to any further scoring. Hoppe missed and then Sutton soon settled down for a good run and the further he went the better he play ed. The balls were first at the foot of the table and with; the fourth shot, a very fine single cushion. Sutton gathered the ivories in his favorite position for close aursing. Twenty-seven carroms were clicked off and then a masse was necessary, as they had lined up. At the forsie h shot Sutton had gathered in the upper right space, but he could not hold them there. He drove the white across the table a few times, made some clever draws and won a round of applause as he reached the half century.

The fifty-sixth was a single cushion bollow but the balls lined up and Sutton had to drive around the table. The fifty-ninth shot was a clear three cushion and the sixtieth shot the best so far of the run. The red and object balls were on opposite sides of the table halfway down and about an inch from the rails and then bounding off the rail went straight across the table and counted. Then the balls were gathered at the foot of the table. The seventy-third shot was a nicely played twice across the table. Sutton seemed to have to work hard for all he got and he made some very clever shots. The century was passed with a single cushion shot and after making 104 he missed on a short spread draw.

Then Hoppe showed what he could do, much to the delight of his wife and her sister, who applauded when others did. Hoppe began with the balls at the foot o table before touching the red ball then taking the corner and counting.

Hoppe after this run was 151 to the bad. He made a very pretty run of 27, all made in the most deticate nursing and driving, and missed a short easy follow. The play was tame after that and Sutton ran out in the fiftieth inning, winning by 500 to 374.

Contests Which Begin Monday. Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN

PARIS, March 15.—The amateur billiard championship match, which begins on Monday, will be more of an international affair than any previous contests. The entrants are as follows: America, Ferdinand J. Poggenburg: Germany, Poengen, who came in second in one of the former American championships; Switzerland, Agassiz; Bel-gium, Maura; France, Blanc, Darantiere, Labouret, De Dres and Roudil, who has just Labouret, De Dres and Roudil, who has just returned from the United States, where he floished fourth in the international championship. France loses the services of her champion, Alfred Mortler, who was disqualified for playing with a professional. Poggenburg is in good shape and is practicing daily. He told the correspondent of The Sun to-day that he was making efforts to arrange for one international championship to be held each year in each country alternately if that is preferred to holding the next meeting in the country of the winner. At the office of the Amateur Billiardists Society the secretary expressed the opinion that the scheme referred to is impossible. The matches, he said, must always be held in France, as although Americans might come to Paris, it would be almost impossible to find Frenchmen who were able and willing to go to the United States.

Carter was beaten in the afternoon game. It is possible that the weather had a great deal to do with his poor showing as weather cuts a big figure in billiard and pool playing. Reynolds played a good game and kept a commanding lead throughout. He made a high run of 21.

In the evening game A. B. Hyman just managed to beat out E. F. Grey by the score of 125 to 123. Hyman started off with a good lead, making 36 in the first three frames and at the end of the seventh frame the score was Hyman, 55; Grey, 50. Then Grey forged ahead, but at the end a very useful 15 helped Hyman and in the last frame when Grey needed 4 and Hyman 13. Hyman made his 13, while Grey could only get one. It was a great fight and safety playing was frequent. The scores:

MANHASSET CUP CHALLENGE.

Seawanhaka Corinthian Club to Try and Win Trophy That Caused Trouble. The Seawanhaka Corinthian Yacht Club has challenged the American Yacht Club for a race this coming summer for the Manhasset Challenge cup. This cup was sailed for last summer and Joyant and Corinthian were disqualified because the committee in charge of the races decided that they did not conform to the requirements of the rule of measurement.

the two yachts still retained the trophy, and asked if that club would accept the interpretation of the executive committee and suggested that the trophy be returned to the original donors, the Manhasset Bay Yacht Club.

The challenge issued by the Seawanhaka Corinthian Yacht Club would indicate that the American club still retains the trophy. The Corinthian is still enrolled in the Seawanhaka Corinthian Yacht Club and is eligible to race again, but it is very probable that a new yacht will be built.

Other clubs can now enter yachts to take part in the series of races which will be sailed on the Sound next summer.

APPRENTICE RIDES WELL.

Jockey Lands Four of His Five Mounts a Winner.

JUAREZ, Mexico, March 15 .- Apprentice JUAREZ, Mexico, March 15.—Apprentice Jcckey Hill was the bright star of the racing at Juarez to-day. The youngster had five mounts during the afternoon, and landed four of them winning. In three of his victories he was compelled to put up a finish that would have been a credit to the older boys, but he brought his mounts home a winner by a head. He has a considerable following here and as a result the ring lost heavily.

Boxing Commissioner Dixon Discusses the Clean Break Rule.

TO STOP ROUGH HOUSING

Other Reforms to Be Considered Soon

-Racing Interests Hope for Legislation.

When Referee Charley White disqualified One Round Hogan for not "breaking clean" in the bout with Leach Cross the other night, he enforced the rule with level headed Judgment, according to Boxing Commissioner John J. Dixon.
"What is a clean break?" said Mr. Dixon yesterday. "I'll answer that myself. It means that when two men are clinched or half clinched and are ordered to break clean by the referce they must step away from each other without attempting to strike a blow. There is no specified dis-tance they must step back, but according to the spirit of the rule they must resume the usual position for sparring which is assumed when a bout begins. There should be room for the referee to step between the men after they have been ordered to inches from his apponent and then hit you know that he is trying to take advantage of a technicality and isn't imbued with real sportsmanship. In such cases I believe a referee is justified in warning a man and if the offence becomes flagrant disqualification must follow. The Frawley ed to promote and improve boxing, not rough house slugging and brutal tactice. The State Commission after watching many bouts passed a rule against holding and hitting on the breakaway. That was a move calculated to make contestants box for points in a way to entertain the public. It cannot be denied that a large majority of citizens who attend glove contests prefer clean boxing to rough house largest crowds and command the biggest gate money. Taking this fact into consideration, therefore, the commission will insist upon the enforcement of rules that are calculated to maintain the popularity of the game.

In explaining his idea of a clean break Referee White said yesterday that contestants should step back far enough to allow him to go between them if necessary. He insisted that when a boxer in the act of breaking away reached over the referee's shoulder and landed or attempted to land a blow he was guilty of a violation of the rule. White declared that the days of holding and hitting were gone and that referees would be commended for insisting upon manly boxing.

Another reform will be cosidered by the Commission at an early date. It will take the form of a rule prohibiting timekeepers from giving a signal ten seconds before the expiration of a round. Under present conditions men holding watches and handling gongs usually rap on the edge of the ring to indicate that the round is drawing to a close. This practice has been due to a desire to prepare the seconds, who must jump into the ring with a chair, water bottles, fans and towels. But it has caused many boxers to cease hard work during the remaining ten seconds. Some boxers of course redouble their efforts, but a majority of them stall until the bell rings. It is argued that there is ample time for seconds to climb into the corners after the gong has been sounded and that boxers under the rules should keep going at their best gait until the usual three minute period has elapsed.

Many boxing promoters also believe that the commission should arrange weight limits and scaling time for all the classes. It is a fact that no authorized governing body ever has fixed weight limits for bouts in America. President Gibson of the Fairmont A. C. said yesterday:

"The ommission should keep up the good work already accomplished by arranging weights to govern all classes. Such a scale would be recognized all over the United States and would put an end to many controversies. Boxers nowadays fix their own weights, especially in arranging championship contests. Many of them try to get the better of rivals on the scales. You might call it sharp practice. There is no rule governing this part of the game, and action by the commission would be favorably received."

Cross and Hogan weighed inside of the ring the other night and there was much favorable comment. But it is probable that the commission will rule that scales must be kept outside of the ropes if only for the reason that the weighing of contestants inside of the ring savors of barbaric customs. In California boxers always weigh in the ring unless the scaling time occurs several hours before the handshake.

A hocdoo seems to be on the trial o Stuffy McInnes, the Athletics first baseman. Last fall this young man could not play in the world's series because of an injured wrist. When he reported at the camp recently he showed that he had fully recovered from the injury, but a few days later he twisted his ankle and is limping around with the aid of a cane. Connie Mack, always patient, says he does not intend to run risks and has ordered McInnes to go slow until the pennant race begins.

Karia, the latest importation from Bombay, India, latest importation from Bombay, India, was pitted against Dr. B. F. Roller, one of the best of the American heavyweight grapplers. They wrestled without a fall. According to the conditions the pair wrestled in relays of ten minutes, which is the Indian custom. A rest of three minutes was allowed between the periods. Although not built on the massive lines of some of the Turks who have been here from time to time, Karia possesses great strength and the bout had not been in progress long before it became apparent that the chocolate colored grappler knew the game. He did most of the work in the first period and at eight minutes got a crotch hold that came near proving disastrous, but the doctor squirmed away. Both men were on their feet at the end of the first ten minutes.

Roller did better in the second period, the Westerner being the aggressor most of the time, though Kaila always met the American with a puzzling defence. A bar hold secured by Roller toward the end of the period was easily broken by Kaila. The foreigner assumed the aggressive throughout the last period, being behind or on top of his man most of the time. Just before the bell Roller got behind Kaila and tried for a toe hold. Ernest Roeber was the referce and he pronounced it one of the fastest bouts between big men that he had seen in years. They weighed 210 pounds. was pitted against Dr. B. F. Roller, one

The use of the Marist College diamond, within a couple of blocks of the hotel, was offered to the Highlanders and the offer eagerly and gratefully accepted. There the New Yorks put in what on the whole was the best day's work they have had here. Hartzell, Dolan, Priest and Wolverton were in the diamond preceding a lively half hour's workout in which Erhard and Coleman at third, Stump at short, Gardner at second and Simmons at first were the performers.

Wolverton did the batting to this combination and put them through a spirited course of sprouts, coaching each and all of them incessantly. Williams and Appleby, the latter dubbed White Hope on account of his size, were behind the bail and had a chance to practice the throw to second base. Appleby apparently has a powerful arm and whipped the ball down to the midsack easily and with as much early season speed as was safe. He had more ginger than he has yet shown.

Before the regular performance this afternoon the teams captained by Hartley and Paulet played off their tie game of Wednesday and Paulet's team won by a score of 6 to 1. The ice cream sodas that were involved in the victory are to be purchased in Houston, where the colts play to-morrow. Both they and the regulars, who play in Galveston, leave Marlin at midnight. The two special cars, which will carry the squad are already standing here on a siding so the men can retire early and get a good night's rest.

The regulars started off as if they meant to win to-day's battle, scoring a run in the first inning on a triple by Snodgrass and Murray's double. They made one more run in the trird, but it carnot be said that they carned it. With two men out Devore got to first on a third strike, which was also a wild pitch. He attempted to steal second and reached third when Hartley's throw sailed over Groh's head. Then Doyle double to centre and Josh scored.

The coits made their first taily in the second inning on successive doubles by Burns and Stock. They scored once in the third on Wiltse's double and Shafer's single, and again in the fourth on a double by Bugs, an unsuccessful attempt to force him at third, and Stock's second hit of the afternoon.

C. in Harlem, the victini being Jim Coffey, from Ireland, and identified as one of Carl Morris's tryouts, Carl Morris, the would-be white hope. The encounter between Jim Coffey and Soldier Kerns did not go even a round, for it took the man that halls from the U. S. A. just two minutes and a half to put the immigrant from Erin's Isle away.
When the bell sounded starting the first round both men came from their corners and hesitated, and it appeared that they were afraid of each other. It did not take the man from the army a second to size up his opponent and he went right after Coffey, landing a stinging right to the Jaw, putting the Irishman to the floor. Coffey arose, only to receive a duplicate and again for a short count. After Carl Morris's sparring partne After Carl Morris's sparring partner had arisen from the floor for the third time Kerns was right there to send him away again with a cross right hook to the point of the jaw that sent the man from Ireland down to the floor once more. The referee solemnly counted the ten seconds over the prostrate Coffey, who failed to regain his feet. Coffey was then carried to his corner a beaten pugilist.

Marchant Beats Scanlon. PHILADELPHIA, March 15 .- Billy Mar-

chant, the English featherweight, who has distinguished himself in this country since he arrived here, defeated Bob Scan-lon in the star bout of six rounds at the Nonparell A. C. here to-night. Scanlon was very strong in the first round and rushed the English boxer off his feet, winning the round. From the second round to the last Marchant had things all his own way and he beat Scanlon in good style.

Providence Fighter Wins.

George Alger, the Providence welter-weight, defeated Jack Martin, a local The recruits were a jubilant lot, for they emerged victorious from the fray by a score of 6 to 2.

The game was played for the benefit of the local association of the Daughters of the Confederacy, and as most of Marilia was present the receipts must have been large. The gathering was a fashionable one, and automobiles and buggies.

Intercolonials Beat Clevelands.

Boston, Mass., March 15.—The Inter-colonial hockey team of this city defeated the Cleveland A. C. seven by the score of 2 to 1 in a rough game at the Arena tonight. Each team scored a goal during the first period of play and the local players caged the puck for a win just before the end of the second period.

Big Races, Even if Savannah Doesn't Want Them.

MOROSS ACTIVE IN CUBA

Runs Meet There in Spite of A. A. A. Suspension Edict-Burman Wins Brassard.

Although the Savannah Automobile Club authorities announced recently that they would not seek another running the Grand Prize and other important automobile races on their courses down there, it was not cause for any great amount of excitement inesmuch as just such a statement was made in Savannah immediately after the completion of the races last November. They do not intend to take the initiative another time. is the substance of their pronouncement and the meaning of this simply is that they are not unwilling to get the races, VICTORY FOR N. Y. U. GYMNASTS. but don't want to be put in the position of going after them. There are reasons peculiar to the situation in Savannah and n the automobile club that have brought about this turn of affairs.

However, if the Savannah folks lag behind there are others who do not. Already there have been offers from two other cities for the face. For one, it is wanted down in Dallas, Tex. The Chicago Motor Club would not be unwilling to drop the Elgin events for a chance to handle the Grand Prize and the Vanderblit Cup races if these could be got. And if it seems desirable to hold the races in Georgie, Atlanta will go after them eagerly. The rivalry between Atlanta and Savannah is considerable and the folks in Atlanta would probably like nothing better than a chance to take the big races away from the other city.

It would be a good think for the races, however, if they were held in some other section of the country. After two or three seasons, they get to be rather an old story with those who live in any one section and if the idea is to keep the interest in these automobile races fresh, that will be best served by shifting the scene every once in a while, particularly if cities can be found that actually offer inducements to get them.

Speaking of racing, it is to be noted that Ernie Moross isn't feeling his sixty day suspension by the A. A. A. Contest Board any too much. He has been down in Cuba, which doesn't come under A. A. rulings apparently. He ran off a competition for the Remy Brassard, which those who went to Brighton Beach for the race meets last year will remember. And, surprising as it may seem, even in Cuba Bob Burman was the winner of this trophy.

Most motorists are willing to believe now that there will be some sort of reci-procity measure made into law at the present session of the New Jersey Legis-lature, not because ex-Gov. Murphy has come out for it, but because they believe its success was assured in advance.
